

TIA Board Nominees

Air Transport Sector

- Steve Sanderson
- Duncan Small

Steve Sanderson

Steve Sanderson has been the Chief Executive Officer for Wellington Airport since February 2012. Prior to that, Steve was the Chief Executive for Queenstown Airport for five years.

Prior to Queenstown Airport, he spent three years as Chief Executive for Dynamic Controls, a US-owned company, which is listed on the New York stock exchange.

Steve predominately has a career background in infrastructure businesses, including General Manager NZ/Australia at Powerco Ltd, and General Manager at Lyttelton Port Company. He is currently a Director of Pioneer Generation and Port Nelson.

Steve is a graduate of Monash University, Melbourne.

Duncan Small

Duncan Small is Head of Government and Industry Affairs at Air New Zealand.

Duncan leads Air New Zealand's work with local and central government and its work with international governments in places the airline flies to. He also leads Air New Zealand's participation in the tourism, transport and trade sectors.

Duncan joined Air New Zealand in early 2015. He has previously worked in the Policy Advisory Group of the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet, and for KPMG and the New Zealand Treasury.

